The Salisbury Daily News, the spicy sheet published by Horace Philpott for a little over three weeks, has ceased to exist. We are informed that the News was forced to turn its toes to the daisies because of a strike by the compositors in the Salisbury Press-Spectator office from which the News was published. The News was a lively young journal and its smiles and squawls will be missed by the people of Salisbury as well as by W. A. Crawley of Keytesville.

Brave Explorers

Like Stanley and Livingstone found it harder to overcome malaria, fever and ague and typhoid disease germs than savage Cannibals, but thousands have found that Electric Bitters is a wonderful cure for all malarial diseases. If you have chills with fever, aches in back of neck and head and tired, worn-out feeling, a trial will convince you of their merit. W. A. Null of Webb, Ill., writes: "My children suffered for more than a year with chills and fever; then two bottles of Electric Bitters cured them. Only 50 cents. Try them. Guaranteed. Sold by W. C. Gaston, druggist."

Accounts at Auction.

The Courier is going to have an auction sale of a job lot of subscription accounts Saturday, Nov. 24. If you are looking for bargains in this line, be on hand at the post-office door at 1 o'clock p. m. the day of sale.

C. W. Northcott, who edits the Summer Star, a rabid Republican sheet, shouts: "Four years more of the full dinner pail." Nothing could please Northcott better than a prospect to keep his belly full. The full dinner pail doesn't stand any show, though, when the vacuum in the abdomen of the editor of the Star is calling for grub.

Editor Sees Wonders.

Editor W. V. Barry of Lexington, Tenn., in exploring Mammoth Cave contracted a severe case of piles. His quick cure through using Bucklen's Arnica Salve convinced him it is another world's wonder. Cures piles, injuries, inflammation and all bodily eruptions. Only 25c at W. C. Gaston's drug store.

The Dalton News indulges in this whopper: "Talk about land! There is no better land on the face of the earth than that surrounding Dalton. Why, there is even a report in circulation to the effect that one of our farmers is becoming disheartened about raising mammoth vegetables. According to the rumor he devoted his earnest efforts to raising giant carrots, and just as he would bring them to perfection the Chinese would grab them by the roots and pull them through on the other side. There seems to be no way of protecting our citizens against these outrages unless Uncle Sam and the balance of the powers annihilate the disgraceful heathens who persist in destroying our gardens in such an unscrupulous manner."

I cannot speak too highly of it." This remedy always wins the good opinion, if not praise, of those who use it.
